Electronica description

Most artists labeled "electronica" dislike the term, but no one has come up with a better name for the growing number of artists making dance floor-friendly music that's long on samples and synthesizers. From the chilly electro-pop of godfathers Kraftwerk and New Order to the latter-day rave anthems of Fatboy Slim, electronica

Cut Copy on East Village Radio

You know what? We just couldn't leave you all hanging like that, so here's what's gonna happen: Cut Copy are going to stop by Guilty Pleasure (DJ Elhaam's weekly show on EVR) on Monday, March 17 right before their show at Mercury Lounge. They'll be previewing tracks, talking about SXSW, and generally just being their charming selves. Don't stress, this is iron-clad forreal, so don't miss.

Mochipet's Heavy Metal Tour Mix

When it comes to DJs, most folks/blogs tend to love em then leave em. But girls (and by girls, we mean readers), believe when we tell you that Mochipet's a keeper. He's a hip-hop DJ (for now), but he's done disco, electro, breakcore (YESSSSS!!!); Don King would rightly say the man is just tremendous. This is a mix he threw together for the European tour he's on right now, and we're just in awe. So serious.

GBH on East Village Radio

In honor of Matthew Dear's Big Hands show going down tomorrow, Max throws the indie-disco book at you with stuff from In Flagranti's label Codek, a Sally Shapiro remix by Junior Boys, and some other treats, while Sam continues the B-More assault with new Hollertronix madness, Tittsworth-mixed AC/DC, and a certain artist who um, feels

MOCHIPET (DALY CITY RECORDS) AMOEBLOG INTERVIEW

Interview with David Wang (aka Mochipet) of Daly City Records

AMOEBLOG: I've heard many descriptions of your music but how do you describe the music you make?

MOCHIPET: I like to think of my music as "experimental music." But more in a sense that I am always experimenting with new sounds and ideas. Not necessarily sounds that are new to the human ear but sounds that are always new to mine. I used to try and always make sounds that no one has ever heard before but then I realized it doesn't matter if anyone else has heard it. It only matters if I had. Other people like to call my music. IDM, Glitch, Breakcore, etc etc.. But I just make music

AMOEBLOG: According to the liner notes your new album, Microphonepet, was recorded over a five year span but you dont give years for each track. In which years were most recorded?

MOCHIPET: Yes, the songs were all spaced out and recorded over the past five years. I have always enjoyed making hip hop beats and collaborating with MC's. However, I never had enough for a full album, because it was not the only thing I did. But recently, I had a chance to finish up these songs and compile them into a LP. The newest ones were "Girls and Boys and Toys" with Jahcoozi, "Banna Split" with Bicasso of Living Legends and E Da Boss, "Mr. Malase" (featuring Casual of Hieroglyphics, Dopestyle, and Humanbeings), and "Take You Down" (featuring Sindri and Taiwankid). The oldest one is probably "The Graduate" (featuring Dubphonics). The older ones were generally more sample based while the newer ones were more glitch and synth based.
